History

CutTime Players (CTP) began when eight virtuoso Detroit Symphony Orchestra members came together in 1995 to perform Igor Stravinsky's profound musical-drama L'Histoire du Soldat (The Soldier's Tale). The pragmatic instrumentation resembles a miniature orchestra, calling for violin and double bass, clarinet and bassoon, trumpet and trombone, with percussion. The double bassist Rick Robinson, expanded upon this idea by adding flute and arranging the musical story of Peter and the Wolf by Prokofiev, as a companion piece to L'Histoire.

Lyric Chamber Ensemble of Southfield immediately engaged them for a family concert series in successful collaborations with other Detroit area artists, including Detroit Dance Collective, Atlantis Expedition Puppets, and flutist Alexander Zonjic. Detroit Symphony Orchestra (DSO) subsequently engaged them to resurrect its Tiny Tots series for further collaborations.

Today CTP performs over one hundred works ranging from symphonic classics to piano repertoire to famous jazz works to folk music. CTP has also developed many educational services in Southeast Michigan public and private schools.

Geoff Applegate, violin
Rick Robinson, bass/director
Sharon Sparrow, flute
Ted Oien, clarinet
Bob Williams, bassoon
Kevin Good, trumpet
Randy Hawes, trombone
Sam Tundo, percussion
